

Communicates with Influence

Your responses suggest you likely communicate in a confident and assertive manner, and enjoy winning others around to your perspective. You appear to be comfortable communicating with a wide range of people and likely seize opportunities to engage others in what you have to say. Your interpersonal confidence, together with your empathy for others and openness to their different ideas and perspectives, is likely to help you relate well with people across a broad range of social settings and recognise the need to adapt your style to suit your audience. You also appear to remain composed, even when you find yourself in emotionally charged situations. As such, you are likely to approach negotiations with confidence, whilst thoughtfully discussing issues and identifying and addressing the expectations and concerns of others in the process.

General Reasoning Ability

This area relates to how quickly and accurately you can process different types of novel information and use it to draw the correct conclusions. Taking into account the number of questions answered correctly, and the time taken for each correct answer, you scored above average on this reasoning test. This suggests you are likely to work with written, numerical or abstract data more effectively than most.
